

Hey There....

To all of my horse show buddies

I hope the summer has been good to you, it seems to be ending way too quickly.

Candy's Cowboy Cabins had added another house or two and has plans for more before the end of the year.

The fall show season is upon us so we need to tighten up all of our plans.

Lets get our dates and choices down so we can avoid any confusion later on. Ok ?

So, here's what we need to do. return this with the dates (approximate) and how many bedrooms you will need. We are getting so many calls. I want to make sure you will be staying with us again so I can take care of my best guests first.

Look forward to hearing from you...fondly

Candy
